WALWORTH GARDEN FARM
Walworth garden farm is a slice of tranquility, a few moments away from the hustle and bustle of Walworth road. The moment you walk in, there is a serene energy that draws you in to explore the variations of tropical plants, ecological habitats and beautiful horticulture.

This once derelict site was reclaimed by the community and transformed into an oasis. The ethos of Walworth Garden Farm is rooted in creating a space for people to grow, upskill and provide therapy through horticultural activities. CEO Oli Harden describes the space as a ‘Horticultural learning centre’ which intends to provide courses aimed at three distinct groups: those that are not in education and want to learn, those who want to gain professional skills to return to work and those who need therapeutic support to aid with improving mental health.

They have an array of amazing holistic courses, such as incense making, introduction to herbal medicine; and essential oils and perfumes - and more. They have a quota of free places on these courses for individuals that meet the criteria listed above. Walworth Garden Farm also offers services such as external landscaping, natural therapy and sell a range of indoor and outdoor plants, in which profits go back into the organisation.
Thanks to a partnership between Pecan, St Luke’s Church and Fareshare, the Peckham Pantry is now live and assisting those that are at risk of being or who are food insecure in Southwark. Residents of Southwark can become a member if they have ever struggled to pay a bill.

For a small weekly subscription of £4.50, members of Peckham Pantry will be able to buy food - including fresh fruit and veg and store cupboard favourites to the value of more than £15.

Walworth Garden Farm also offers services such as external landscaping, natural therapy and sell a range of indoor and outdoor plants, in which profits go back into the organisation. Oli plans to work with TRA’s in the upcoming future, by transforming unused space on estates to subsistence farming plots that will be maintained by the residents, producing fruit and veg for the local communities.

You can support Walworth Garden farm by visiting the space, offering skilled volunteering, purchasing their goods or participating in a day course. More details can be found on their website: https://walworthgarden.org.uk/

SFAA Network Update

New SFAA coordination

As many of you already know, the coordination of SFAA has been transferred from Debbie at Garden Organic to Abbie at Community Southwark, until we have funding in place for a SFAA coordinator 3 days per week. We are working to build communications, including a new website and twitter feed. Whilst the website is still under construction, our twitter page is now available to follow @SwkFoodAction.

We also have a new email address for SFAA which is: SFAA@communitysouthwark.org.

Please send any upcoming events or news to this email by the 15th of each month so that we can add it to the next newsletter that will follow a few days later.

The date for the next SFAA network meeting is Thursday 4th July 2019 10:00-13:00 at Bells Garden Community Centre. Book the following dates in your diaries for upcoming network meetings:

Thursday 19th September
Thursday 14th November
Thursday 16th January

If anyone would like to host any of these meetings, please contact us.

The SFAA steering group is a smaller group of SFAA members who want to help shape the activities, funding and impact of SFAA. The steering group will meet every two months, kindly hosted by the public health team at 160 Tooley Street, on alternate months to our network meetings. If you would like more information about joining the steering group, please email us.

The next steering group meeting date is yet to be confirmed, but will be in early August.

If you would like your organisation / project to be showcased in an upcoming issue of SFAA News, please contact us by email.

Thank you so much to Debbie for her ongoing dedication and for making SFAA the great network it is currently!
